

Residential vs Nonresidential Construction Employment

Nonresidential construction adding significantly more jobs than residential construction

Nonresidential Construction

- Added 55,600 jobs over the twelve months of 2025
- Growth was driven by strong demand for infrastructure, data center development, and general commercial projects

Residential Construction

- Shed 41,400 jobs over the twelve months of 2025
- Employment losses reflect ongoing challenges from high interest rates and housing affordability constraints
